The Daily Republic.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 11, 1878.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

WHAT has become of the new hotel? Our your Fresh Oysters by the can, at "Martin's."

Get out for a walk from the rural districts to-morrow.

Remember the tea meeting at James Chapel to-night. Supper served at six o'clock.

The Italian band played for a fashionable party at Mattson last night.

THE A. P. C. Club will not be entertained on Monday street to-night, and the society has been indefinitely postponed.

THREE, but surface drainage, is being laid on the east side of North Main street, between William and North streets.

It is estimated that the newspapers on file in the Public Library are read over by 800 people daily.

It nearly broke her heart, but it's all right now. She trips around the house as lively as ever, for she is going to the Hookline hall on the 11th.

Go and take tea at James' Chapel this evening. A pleasant time socially will be enjoyed, and the ladies will furnish an abundant supply of choice refreshments.

O'Connor, the East Wood street blacksmith, is manufacturing the iron bedsteads for the new hospital. He has completed four.

From the appearance of its patrons we should judge that a certain boarding house in this city furnishes the best snuff remedy.

We have been requested by a "constant reader" to request the ministers of this city on beginning services next Sabbath to read the parable of the Good Samaritan.

Ten Egyptian Ghost Show mystified three full houses last night, and still the wonderful performance is unexplained. A large number of ladies were present last night.

Mrs. B. H. Richter is fitting a neat and commodious cottage built up just north of her residence on North Water street, which we understand is to be for rent when completed.

A LAYER of heavy paper has been put upon the tabernacle roof and covered with tar which it is thought will prevent all further trouble from tar dripping upon the seats.

Colored barbers and hotel attaches are great lovers of the human race, and dropped a few dollars at the fair grounds on Tuesday. Retrenchment and silence is their motto now.

Now that the winter has set in and the work to keep yourself and children warm has begun, you will remember that a large stock of goods, such as are necessary for your comfort can be had at M. Goldman's, 8 Merchant street.

Ms. W. T. Wintz has laid out and built a carriage path on the north side of his residence lot, on North Main street, extending from the street to his fine brick stable in the rear of his beautiful brick dwelling. The path is underlaid with the leading into the side ditch of the street.

THERE are heavy shipments of cattle and hogs from west to east, over the Wahash road almost daily. There is also quite a movement of stock northward over the Central road, most of which is bound for Chicago. Both cattle and hogs passing through here are in fine condition.

BILL boards are handsomely set off with the amusing tales of Tony Dealer's Humpty Dumpty couple. The cats are immense and all who have seen the show say it is still more so. Decatur people will have an opportunity to know how it is themselves, on Friday evening of next week.

Decatur musicians want to know why it is they are given the cold shoulder this winter, and a voting band picked up to furnish music for private parties. Probably the boys want to economize, and yet they do say that the strangers charge more than our home musicians. Home first, last and always.

This reform club was largely attended last night and various matters connected with the temperance work in this locality were discussed. A good spirit is said to have pervaded the meeting. A number of the brethren present made brief addresses.

From all parts of this county we get the most encouraging accounts of the condition of the growing wheat. The weather throughout the fall has been just right to facilitate firm setting, and also the growth of the blade. The wheat fields are as green as pastures in June, and with anything like a favorable winter the wheat fields of Macon county will open out in the spring with the most encouraging prospects. The breadth seen this fall for anything ever known in Macon county before.

Knight of Honor—Regular meeting of Decatur Lodge No. 87, this (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock.

C. C. CARTER, Dictator.

The Humpty Dumpty Basket Club, for the purpose of raising money for the poor, will give a public sale of their goods on Oct. 10th.

CHALLIS BROS. ESTABLISHMENT.

The Popular Place to Buy Fine Boots and Shoes at Popular Prices.

In 1876 J. Challis & Bro. opened out in the boot and shoe business in post office block in this city, and by fair and honest dealing, strict attention to business, and always keeping in stock a full line of fine goods, secured a good share of the patronage of the best people of Decatur and Macon county.

On the first day of October last the firm changed to Challis Bros. (C. W. and G. A.), and there is scarcely five minutes in the day when there are less than three or more customers in the store purchasing goods.

Everything about the establishment is arranged in the most tasteful manner, and the stock, which is emphatically one of the finest ever displayed in Decatur, is complete in every department.

They sell the celebrated Hanes & Reddick boots and shoes for men's wear, equal to Burt's manufacture. Ladies fine goods a specialty.

One of the specialties sold by Challis Bros., is a unique slipper, for ladies wear, manufactured in Philadelphia. When desired the firm will take measures for ladies fine shoes, and guarantee the every time.

All classes of goods constantly kept in stock. Men's boots as low as $3.00; ladies shoes $1.00 and upward; slippers as low as 35 cents. There is no better place to buy than at Challis Bros. establishment, and the reader will find it to his interest to give them a call when in search of boots and shoes that will give comfort to your feet, fill your heart with pride, and suffice your face with smiles of satisfaction.

AN EXCITING TRIAL.

In Which Almira Kennedy was Plaintiff, and Bob Winston and Al McGordon were Defendants.

In a previous issue an account was given of the arrest of Bob Winston and Al McGordon, on a warrant sworn out by Almira Kennedy, charging the boys with assault and a breach of the peace.

The case was heard yesterday afternoon by Justice Curtis, Harvey Pasco appearing for the plaintiff, and Bunn & Park for the defendants.

It seems that the parties live neighbors, about two miles northwest of town, and the evidence in the case went to show that on the day of the difficulty Almira came to town and inspired herself with "benzene," and under said inspiration went home, as she said, to clean out the d-d niggers. After getting home she, with an assistant named Belle Coffey, set about the job, and when Al McGordon came past her house, she came out and commenced to curse him.

About a dozen witnesses were examined, and all but the complaining parties swore that the boys did not go into the woman's premises at all, and that they did not make any demonstrations toward the house or its inmates, notwithstanding one of the women swore that she was struck and the other that she was knocked down with an ax in the hands of one of the defendants.

After hearing all the evidence in the case, the court failed to see that Bob or Al had been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor, and consequently discharged them.

REFORM CLUB MEETING.

There was a very full meeting of the reform club in their new room in the tabernacle last night. Capt. McGorry presided, and Rev. Father Crissey conducted the devotional exercises.

The club was entertained by a recitation from Miss McCollum, and short speeches by members. The matter of giving a Thanksgiving dinner for the benefit of the tabernacle was discussed, and it was decided that arrangements be set on foot immediately to give a Thanksgiving dinner, fair and festival, on Thursday, Nov. 28.

The club appointed a committee of seven to act in conjunction with similar committees to be appointed by the Women's Temperance Christian Union and the Young Ladies reform club. Under the auspices of these three organizations the undertaking cannot but succeed.

Bertha Zephyra and Germantown Yarns, Shetland Wool, Knitting Yarns—all these goods have become of great importance to the ladies and children. They are a part, and for children almost all when made up is to a garment of any kind that is necessary to keep them comfortable and warm. The largest stock in Decatur, at lowest prices, you can find at M. Goldman's, 8 Merchant st.

THE PROPOSED HOSPITAL.

A Few Timely Remarks from a Correspondent.

The successful maintenance of a charity hospital in a small town such as Decatur can only be accomplished by united effort. Any endeavor to plant so noble a charity as this must be made with full understanding of the danger of provoking lukewarmness or open hostility among religious denominations, benevolent societies, or the professions.

It will be impossible to secure the co-operation of every individual or organization, but to insure the lasting success of such an enterprise a system must be pursued that shall disarm opposition to the greatest possible extent. Previous attempts in towns of similar size, if well considered, will render unnecessary much disappointing experience, will save the loss of much time, and avoid the risk of exciting denominational or professional jealousy.

Your correspondent will undertake to point out only a few of the dangers likely to be encountered in the beginning.

The most prolific source of danger will be in sectarian dissent among religious denominations; for, while all recognize the loftiness of motive and the broad catholicism of an attempt to minister to the needs of the sick, each sect of Christians will aspire to a share in the control of the charity, if not to its exclusive management.

This danger may be averted by putting the general management into the hands of a board of trustees, composed of all religious sects in town, having an organization.

Probably the next danger in importance to be shunned is professional rivalry among those who are expected to render professional service to the sick.

To give the management and control of the hospital to one or more physicians or surgeons will be sure to excite the envy and opposition of those who are not selected, as well as of their adherents; for while the medical profession comprises everywhere many noble men whose philanthropy is called to daily exercise, its members are yet subject, in some degree, to selfishness and envy, and these passions will be sure to find a voice. This danger may be averted by allowing each reputable physician to render gratuitous service in turn, for a period of time to be named by the trustees.

Every suffering person should be allowed the benefit of this charity, regardless of character, sect, or any other distinction, subject to no other limitations than compliance with the requirements of the management and its ability to provide assistance.

It must be free from municipal control, except of the most general sort, or it will soon become the charge of the city. Its management must be free from all but generous and noble instincts and purposes. There must be no criticism or questioning as to the eminent fitness of those who have undertaken the care and direction of the internal administration of this charity. They need no tribute of respect or praise.

Let us sink out of sight all lesser concerns and unite in building a better exponent of Christianity than churches or vestments.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Home. A. J. Gallagher left for Kansas yesterday and will be absent about two weeks.

Mr. Caleb Hedges, of Friends Creek, was in the city at an early hour this morning, indicating that he is an early riser.

J. "Dolly" Blain and Bunn Post returned from Pawnee county, Kansas, last evening. They traveled the entire distance, over 800 miles, in a wagon, and it took them 30 days to reach Decatur.

Blain has been in Kansas since last April, improving Cliff Betzer's farm, which lies near Larned.

Mr. W. H. Linn purchased three of Frank Beard's cartoons at the tabernacle the other evening, and they cost him $3.75. And now his clerks inquire "What will he do with them?"

C. F. KERRY, Esq., of Macon, was a caller at this office this forenoon.

George Chaffin is one of the slickest salesmen in Decatur. But he came from Lafayette, Ind., and that accounts for the milk in the coconut, or words to that effect.

We are sorry to learn of the death of the infant child of Mr. Crosthwaite, book-keeper for the Decatur Tank Line Company. The child was seized with spasms day before yesterday, since which time it has failed until this morning, when it died. Its age was about three months.

Mrs. Joseph Shollabarger (formerly Miss Mollie Mitchell) and her two children, arrived in the city at noon today from her western home, Topeka, Kansas. She is stopping with her parents, at 21 West Prairie street.

J. H. Millikin, the East Main street commission merchant, gave us a business call this morning.

F. E. Wilbur, Boston; A. W. Grant, New York, and D. J. Whitney and Ed. Colburn, Chicago, are at the St. Nicholas.

Mr. J. T. Clough, of Illinois township, spent a part of today in Decatur. As did also Mr. A. F. Hopkins, of Wheatland township.

William Patterson, the marble cutter, will give lessons to all parties, in the art of free-hand drawing—figures, landscapes, articles, etc., at moderate charges. Leave name with Will Hubbard at the drug store.

HEALTHFULNESS.

A distinguished physician says "After a careful examination of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, I am satisfied that it is a wholesome preparation. I have introduced it among my patients, and have yet to learn where a convalescent patient could not indulge in warm biscuits made with it, and feel the better for it."

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A FORMER CITIZEN OF DECATUR.—The readers of the REPUBLICAN will remember A. V. Confer, who in the spring of 1876 took possession of the bakery at the southeast corner of the old square, as the successor of a Mr. Simpson. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat of today gives the following account of what will probably prove a fatal accident to Mr. Confer, which occurred at Mattson yesterday:

MATSON, ILL., Nov. 14.—A V. Confer, baker, while under the influence of liquor, boarded an east-bound train this afternoon, on the I. & St. L. Road, and when opposite the gas works, a few hundred yards from the station, fell or jumped from the train and cut his head, so that his head is imminent.

LETTER FROM ELLIS, KANSAS.

ELLIS, KANSAS, Nov. 11, 1878.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—Wishing to show to my many friends, not only in the city of Decatur, but more particularly the farmers that are groping around in the mud to raise a little corn, I therefore ask you to publish the following statement showing the average of wheat sown in this county during the years of 1877 and '78.

Total numbers of acres of wheat sown within a radius of ten miles of Ellis during the year 1877 was 280 acres, average yield to the acre 25 bushels, average price per bushel 65cts. Total number of acres sown this fall within the same radius by actual count is 5,000 acres allowing the same average yield in 1878 will give us a yield of 125,000 bushels, which at 65cts per bushel will bring $81,250 which will be an average of $19.75 income to the acre.

W. H. WHITMAN.

The writer of the above is well known to many of the readers of the REPUBLICAN, and his statements will be read with interest by those who contemplate migration to Kansas.
